Hospital passports or Traffic Light Assessments

For people with learning disabilities

A Hospital Passport is very important for people with a learning disability.

Sometimes it is called a Traffic Light Assessment. They are the same thing.

A hospital passport is a book that you can take with you if you need to go hospital.

It has important information about you and the support you may need.

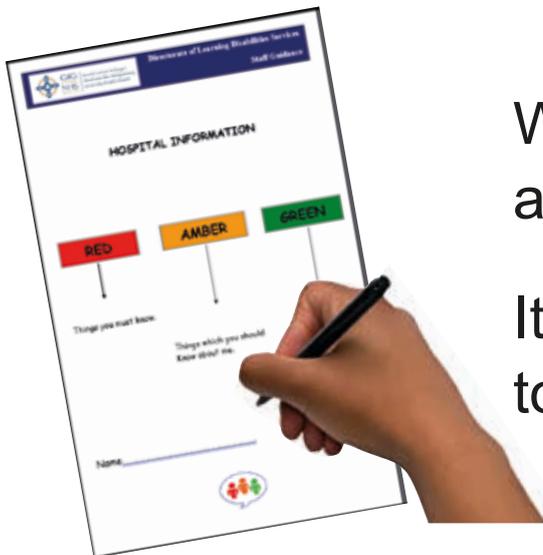

It has information about

- your medication
- your health

- what support you need
- things that are very important to you.

Write in your hospital passport as soon as you get it.

It will be ready if you have to go to hospital.

People who know you well can help you write in it.

If your information changes, change it on your form too.

If you need to go to hospital
take it with you.

Hospital staff need to read your passport.

It will help them learn how to give you the right help.

It is YOUR passport.

If you go to hospital,
keep it near you all the time.

Show it to staff in different parts of the hospital, like the ward or x-ray department.

Hospital passports are very important.

They can help you get the right
support in hospital.

Getting your Experience & Feedback

Telling us about your experiences and stories is so important.

We really want people to be at the heart of everything we do. We want to make sure that people get the best care and support they can.

Your stories can make a difference to what we do and can help make other people's experiences better.

If you would like to give feedback about the Welsh Ambulance Service you can:
